

Father you said in your word Song of Solomon 2:15, that its the small foxes that spoil the vine of our love. Catch the foxes for us, the little foxes that spoil our vineyards.

I pray for the grace to discern when we wander. Please help my spouse and I not fall for any small compromises that open the door to our vineyard of love.

Give us the grace to be proactive in our relationship with you and each other. Help us to guard our time and relationship with you and one another. May we stay anchored in you Jesus. May we be sensitive to the enemies tactics and schemes.

May our prayer life with you increase and go deeper. May we not fall asleep or remain passive, but trample and crush the enemy with the word of God, our prayers and with our love in Jesus name!
