

Father I pray my eyes and my attraction would only be for my beloved spouse and theirs alone. May their physique be sweet to my taste.

May they always stand out among the rest. May their face always be the most lovely. Help me Lord to discern and catch the small foxes that would come and try to spoil the vine of our love.

May our attraction for one another grow and blossom daily. For my beloved is my spouse (mention name) and I am theirs. May I always yearn for them and them alone. May we always and forever be drunk with love for each other. May my soul always love them, hold them and never let them go in Jesus name!
